About the Institute

In 1956, the United Nations, the Government of India, and the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust jointly established the Institute to serve as a regional center for teaching, training and researching population studies in the ESCAP region. Before 1970, the IIPS was popularly known as Demographic Training and Research Centre (DTRC). The Institute was declared Deemed University on August 15, 1985. The Institute is an autonomous institution under the administrative control of the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. The Institute offers academic courses to train students in Biostatistics, Demography, Population, Health and Social Sciences. Training programs and consultancy services to government and non-governmental organizations and other academic institutions are also part of the institute's activities. The Institute also undertakes large-scale nationwide demographic and health surveys. IIPS has helped build a nucleus of professionals in the field of population and health in various countries in the ESCAP region. During the past 60 years, students from 42 different countries of Asia and the Pacific region, Africa, and North America have been trained at the Institute. Many, who are trained at the Institute, now occupy key positions in population and health in governments of various countries, universities and research institutes, and reputed national and international organizations.

Message from Our Director

Prof. K S James

" It is my great pleasure to introduce one of the oldest Institutes in the discipline of demography in the country, International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS), Mumbai, whose history goes way back to 1956. IIPS was recognized as Deemed University by UGC in 1985, considering its wide contribution to demographic and health research, teaching and training. The Institute can successfully blend cutting-edge research with teaching with the help of a set of accomplished faculty members with multidisciplinary backgrounds. The students are equipped to deal with large datasets, use advanced quantitative techniques, and interpret better policy and program interventions. They are also encouraged to use qualitative techniques for their dissertation for a comprehensive understanding of society.

Our students excel in the fields of Population Sciences and Biostatistics. We are proud to be the hub of nationally important surveys such as the National Family and Health Survey (NFHS), Longitudinal Ageing Study in India (LASI) etc. Our collaborations with international organizations such as UNICEF, UNFPA, WHO, etc., and the world's leading universities help us groom and expose our students to the emerging areas of health research and applied statistics.

I want to welcome your esteemed organization to our institute. I am sure you will find an enthusiastic set of students ready to take up challenging tasks on various issues relating to health and population. This brochure contains information on the batch of MSc. Biostatistics and Demography, 2020-22. We look forward to an enduring and meaningful relationship with our recruiters.

Placement Cell Co-ordinators' Desk

" The International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS) is an autonomous institution under the administrative control of the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. The Institute offers academic courses in Biostatistics, Demography and Population Sciences. IIPS is the most reputed institute for education and research in Demography, both in India and in Asia."

-Dr. Aparajita Chattopadhyay

" The Placement Cell is the nodal point of contact for organizations/companies to interact with IIPS. We have been striving continuously to match the students with their dream jobs, resulting in a win-win situation for the student and the hiring organization. We invite the recruiting organizations and graduating students to find the best match between their needs and capabilities. We encourage you to visit our campus and provide placement opportunities to our well-trained students. "

-Dr. Manas R. Pradhan

M.Sc. Biostatistics and Demography

WHY HIRE US?

BIOSTATISTICAL SKILLS

Students are well equipped with theoretical knowledge and empirical training in Biostatistical and Epidemiological techniques. The emphasis on quantitative analysis enables students to develop better techniques for statistical analysis, forecasting, extrapolation, and other tools essential for effective decision-making.

ANALYTICAL SKILLS

Students are competent to handle large-scale datasets like Census, NFHS, NSSO, analyze them and deduce conclusive results. All students are trained to work in groups and deliver presentations within stipulated time.

STATISTICAL SOFTWARE- BASED SKILLS

The profiles of the students are supplemented with professional training in software skills like SAS, R, STATA, SQL, SPSS, MLWIN, GIS, and others.

Along with these skills, students are well equipped in machine learning, business analytics, data sciences and related domains.

PLACEMENT PROCEDURE

Companies are expected to contact the Placement Cell Coordinators in order to have a Pre-Placement Talk. Pre-placement talks provide opportunities for students to know about a prospective employer along with the job profile and career growth opportunities available. In this regard, it is also mentioned that PPTs are not mandatory in the recruitment process. It is organized based on the need of the company.

CVs of the candidates are forwarded to the company. The company informs the placement cell about the shortlisted candidates.

If the company is willing to take a shortlisting test or face-to-face interviews, that would also be scheduled, and the institute will provide facilities.
